The magical rivers of Bosnia & Herzegovina

worldwide fly fishing expeditions since 1992

The rivers Pliva, Una, Unac Krusnica, Neretva, Sanica & Ribnik are breath taking natural beauties. These chalk –mountain rivers of Bosnia & Herzegovina that provoke great interests from many fly fishermen all over the world.

Fly Fishing Dreams is very proud to offer these rivers exclusively to his clients. Prime season to fish at these beauties is from May 01 - October 31.

The Pliva is a river with extraordinary color, purity is surely one of the most beautiful fly fishing rivers in Europe. The river Pliva is very rich of native Grayling that reaches some over 60 cm in length. Although you can easily see a school of Graylings, catching a large one often tires even experienced fisherman because of its clear water. Plentiful nutrition in this river allow the fish to grow extremely strong. The wild nature of these fish needs thin leader. We recommend Pliva to all fly fishermen ready for a challenge on perhaps Europe 's largest Grayling.

The river Una is a mountain river with plentiful rapids, cascades and waterfalls. At the upper river flow between Martin Brod and Kulen Vakuf in western part there is a special fly fishing area rich in brown trout and grayling. Every single fish caught is an experience in and of itself because all the species in this area are native and absolutely wild, without being too large. The river offers the best conditions for fly fishing using dry flies, nymphs and streamers.

The River Unac merges into river Una near Martin Brod. Unac appr. 30 meter wide is extremely rich in large rainbow and brown trout. Many of the fish caught are between 2 and 6 kg, although some fish in deeper pools can often weigh more than that. Graylings can be caught also. Trout can be caught using dry flies, nymphs and streamers. Fishermen should note that these fish are active all day on a dry fly and that Unac is famous for the extraordinary number of fish caught in the early evening.

This stretch of the Ribnik is appr. 5 km long and is very accessible for fly fishing. Because it is so shallow, fishermen can easily cross the river at most locations. The Ribnik is especially rich in capital size wild grayling, which make up 70% of the fish population. These Graylings can be caught using dry flies and nymphs and the fish are active all day on a dry fly. Ribnik can offer a lot action during the day.

The River Sanica is the left tributary to the river Sana, 12 km from Kljuc, It is very accessible for fly fishing and is rich in Grayling, which make up 70% of the total fish population. Besides Grayling, you can also find brown trout. It is possible to catch fish using both dry flies and nymphs, but the fish are especially active all day long when using a dry fly. Many Grayling are between 45 cm and 60 cm.

Other rivers to fish are Krusnica and Neretva under moreless same conditions.

During a week of fishing it is possible to fish a different rivers in the area. Number of anglers is not strictly limited of any of these rivers, that is why we always decide evening before on next day's river, according weather and other relevant conditions. Small Guesthouses are used in the area next to river, with full service and full board.
